Sri Chamarajendra Technical Institute
Mysore

The Chamarajendra Technical Institute bears the name of the late Maharaja Sri Chamaraja Wadiyar, of revered memory, a celebrated patron of the arts and sciences. The present building is situated in Sayyaji Rao Road, opposite the Krishnarajendra Hospital, and is a development of an earlier institution which dates back to the year 1892. The foundation stone of the present building was laid by His Imperial Majesty the King-Emperor, in 1906, and classes were commenced there in 1913.

The objects of the Institute are:

(1) to foster and improve the indigenous industries of the Mysore State;

(2) to introduce new crafts for the development of which there are facilities;

(3) to give a thoroughly practical training in arts, crafts and trades to students who are likely, after leaving the Institute to pursue the subjects learnt and to make them their source of livelihood; and

(4) to introduce generally a taste for good design by giving instruction in the application of art to industry and in the observance of principles of grace and harmony in the preparation of articles made.

The Institute is maintained from State funds and is under the control of the Department of Industries and Commerce in Mysore, assisted by the Committee on Industrial Art.

In addition to the classes, which are primarily meant for boys, a workshop is maintained attached to the Institute, and is run on commercial lines, while regular workmen, many of whom are ex-students of the Institute, are employed. In connection with this, large show-rooms are attached to the Institute for the exhibition of models, of articles made in the Institute for sale, and of samples of work made by approved artisans outside the Institute, whose work is exhibited for sale through the show-rooms.

Dear Sir,

As desired in your letter No 1538/P.P. 104-28 dated 19th October 1929, I am sending herewith a short note on the Krishnarajendra Hospital Mysore duly revising and bringing it up-to-date.

Yours sincerely

SRI KRISHNARAJENDRA HOSPITAL:-

This hospital was started in 1876 and re-constructed at a cost of about 5 lakhs of rupees in 1918. The main building is two-storeyed, terraced and fitted with up-to-date sanitary fittings. It has accommodation for 250 in-patients. The number of in-patients treated during the year 1928 ~~is~~ was 4508 and that out-patients 56,814.

A new out-patient Department endowed by Hajee Sir Ismail Sait (and named " Hajee Sir Ismail Sait's Out-patient Dispensary") was opened on the 23rd October 1928. (Male, Female, Ear, Nose and Throat Out-patient Departments and Clinical Laboratory are located here making a separate out-patient block. This is to the north of the main building and is parallel to it.)

Portions in brackets may be omitted, I think. dcg

There is a separate Eye Department attached to this hospital.

(The number of out-patients treated during the year 1928 ~~is~~ was 56,814.)

THE MAHARANI'S COLLEGE:- This is one of the earliest institutions of the kind established in South India, and has had a great influence in the development of ~~female~~ women's education in the State. It was started in 1881 as a school for high class girls and was recognised as a High School in 1895. In 1900, its name was changed from "The Maharani's Caste Girls' School" to "The Maharani's College". The institution is open to the children of all respectable caste Hindus as well as Europeans, Eurasians, Indian Christians, Mahomedans and Jews. It became a constituent College of the Mysore University in 1917 teaching up to the B.A. Degree examination in the History Group. It produced the first batch of Mysore Women graduates in 1920 and since then, all its alumni have been absorbed into the service of the State as Professors, teachers, or inspectresses. (It is the only constituent College for Women in the State at Present.)

UNIVERSITY OF MYSORE

Maharaja's College,Mysore:

This Institution was founded in 1833 by His Highness the Maharaja Mummadi Sri Krishnaraja Wadeyar Bahadur as a free High School. In 1868, the school was taken over by Government. It was affiliated to the University of Madras as a Second Grade College in 1879, and as a First Grade College in 1894. It is now a constituent College of the Mysore University. In 1928, in accordance with the new scheme of studies, an Intermediate College was instituted and attached to the Maharaja's College. The Hostel can accommodate 150 students. The University Union is close to and associated with, the College. There are very large playing-fields.

Oriental Library,Mysore:

The Oriental Library was established in 1891 with a view to collect and preserve old Sanskrit and Kannada manuscripts and to publish such of them as would throw light on the history, religion and philosophy of India as w a whole and of Mysore, in particular. ~~This Library~~ It was brought under the supervision of the University in the year 1918. So far, 10,294 Manuscripts and 13,261 printed books in Sanskrit and Kannada Literature and English works bearing on Sanskrit Literature, have been collected. The manuscripts thus collected represent many important and rare works in Sanskrit and in Kannada, hitherto unpublished anywhere. Seventy-two works in Sanskrit and sixteen works in Kannada have been published in the Oriental Library Series till now. Four Sanskrit works and three Kannada works are in the Press. Every year about one thousand volumes of the Library publications are being presented to Oriental Scholars and University Libraries and other Educational Institutions both in and outside the State. During the last official year about 8,500 books and manuscripts were issued to Visitors for consultation and study in the Library and about 2,500 books and manuscripts were lent out for study at home (under proper safeguard and security.) Copies of many rare and important manuscripts are also being supplied to Scholars and Publishers on payment of cost according to the prescribed rates.

Mysore University Library, Mysore:

This Library contains, 18,385 volumes, including standard works on Philosophy and Religion, Economics and Political Science, Literature and History, British Parliamentary publications and official Reports.

In February 1923, it was included in the list of Depository Libraries of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and several valuable publications issued by the Endowment have been received in the Library and made accessible to all applicants. The Library receives 70 periodical publications and contains complete sets of important Journals.

H U N S U R:- (Head quarters of the Hunsur Taluk).

A town situated on the right bank of the river Lakshmanatirtha, 28 miles west of Mysore. Population 4,245. It was formerly the head quarters of the Amrith Mahal Cattle Breeding establishment and besides a tannery, a kambli manufactory and timber yard were, until 1864, maintained by the Madras Commissariat.

Hunsur is now noted for the manufacture of country carts of which there is brisk traffic between Mysore, Mercara and Cannanore and on account of which the town has received from the natives the cart name of "Gadipalya". The carts have acquired a name for strength so that they find a ready sale.

Extensive Coffee pulping works have been erected for which the berry is supplied from the estates of Coorg. There is a bone crushing mill also. Hunsur is also the centre for the manufacture of superior kamolis and shoes. The materials required for these manufacturers are obtained locally.

Quite recently a Kar Ragi Breeding Station has been established here to conduct experiments in and to evolve better strains of the ragi varieties that are suitable for the malnad tracts of the District.

P E R I Y A P A T N A:-

Was formerly the head quarters of the Taluk and is now the head quarters of a Sub Taluk which w-as constituted quite recently. Population, 3,108. Its ancient name was Singapatna. This place was one of the principal towns in the territory of the Changalva king of Nanjarajapatna (near Fraserpet in Coorg). Piriya Raja, one of the descendents of Raja Changalva replaced the mud fort by one of stone, established the Pete and called the town after himself, Periyapatna The large stone fort which is in a ruinous condition was formerly infested by tigers, and even now Cheetahs are occassionally found there.

New Mansion at Mysore.

This is an imposing two storyed structure constructed on an elevated spot in the midst of a carefully laid out formal garden to the East of the Mysore City and about 3 miles from it. It is approached by the shady Narasimharaja Boulevard which takes off from the Race Course.

The building which measures about 600' long and 200 deep is of plastered brick work designed in the Neo-classic style with a tall central dome of the shape of St. Peters at Rome, flanked by four small turrets and has two tall end towers. The wide front corridor having double columns which form such prominent feature on the facade with the beautiful central portico of generous dimensions is indicative of the Munificent hospitality of His Highness the Maharaja who has had the Mansion constructed at a cost exceeding Rs.25 lakhs for the use of distinguished guests visiting the capital of the State. It contains exquisitely decorated and tastefully furnished reception, ball, dining and billiard rooms for use during State receptions, on the Ground floor, where accommodation is also provided for the Private Secretaries or Aides-de-Camp accompanying distinguished visitors who are housed on the first floor. The upper story contains about six commodious suites of rooms with separate bed, dressing and bath rooms all containing the necessary water supply and sanitary fittings and having private dining rooms with smaller apartments for servants and maids placed in convenient situations. There is an imposing staircase of white Italian Marble constructed in the Central Hall and opposite the main entrance which gives easy access from the lower to the upper story and there is also an Electric Lift near the domed Central Hall. Adjoining this Central Hall are also cloak rooms, corridors, boudoirs and cosy retiring rooms for visitors and guests.

The mansion standing on an eminence near the Lovely Lalitadri Hill and to the North-East of the famous Chamundi Hill makes an admirable place of sojourn for visitors to this Garden City and is one of the landmarks of Mysore giving glorious panoramic view of the whole of the City with its glistening electric lights.

The Ayurvedic and Unani College in Mysore.

At the beginning, instructions in the Ayurvedic System of Medicine was being given in H.H. the Maharaja's Sanskrit College, Mysore. The first step to impart better tuition in the System of Medicine was taken in 1908 when a separate Ayurvedic College on a modern scale was founded in Mysore in the year 1908 and was located in a portion of the Devaraj Mohalla Market Buildings. As the College and Dispensary grew, it was shifted to a rented building in Hale Agrahar. Asthana Vidwan Vaidya Ratna Gundlu Pandit Lakshmanachar having come forward with a munificient donation of Rs. 15,000/- Govt. have recently sanctioned the construction of the Ayurvedic and Unani College and Hospital at a cost of Rs. 62,648/- in Sayyaji Rao Road, Mysore.

The year 1928-29 was a memorable one in the History of Ayurveda in the State, since the Government sanctioned the reorganisation of the Ayurvedic and Unani College and Dispensary which was pending for over a decade at a cost of Rs. 35,000/- per annum and have recognised the policy that every possible impetus should be afforded to the development of the ancient systems of Medicine. The important features of the revision were the Provision has been made in the College for the teaching of the main system of Medicine and the opening of In-patients' wards to the Hospital attached.

A short note on the Mysore University.

The University of Mysore, established in the year 1916, was the first University to be founded in the Native States of India. For over ~~25~~ years the two State Colleges were affiliated to the Madras University and it was felt that the time had come to effect certain changes with a view to adapting the educational system of the State to the actual needs of the people. A scheme for a University was accordingly prepared in consultation with the Educational Experts of the Government of India and the officials of the State. A bill to establish and incorporate a University was introduced into the Mysore Legislative Council in June 1916 and unanimously passed on the 17th July 1916 and received the sanction of His Highness the Maharaja on the 22nd July of that year.

~~The University~~ It is State supported except for the income derived from fees and endowments and Government have general powers of control. His Highness the Maharaja is the Chancellor and the highest controlling authority. ~~He may at any time delegate any of his powers and functions to a Pro-Chancellor.~~ The Senate has entire charge of the organisation of ~~the~~ instruction and the Executive Government of the University is vested in the Council. The Vice Chancellor who is appointed by the Chancellor is ex-officio Chairman of the Senate and the Council and the principal Executive and Academic Officer of these two bodies

He is next in rank to the Pro-Chancellor. The Colleges are adequately represented both in the Council and the Senate, of which latter every professor designated as " A University Professor" is a member. The question of the reorganisation of the Governing Bodies of the University on the lines of the Report of the Sadler Commission is now under the consideration of the Government.

Other features of the University are the most outstanding that the syllabus in English has been made less onerous and more practical, the increased emphasis is laid on the study of the Vernaculars and special attention paid to the optional languages Sanskrit and Persian.

The Intermediate Course extends over a period of two years at the end of which there is a public examination. The University course extends over a period of two years in the case of the B.A., and the B.Sc., (Pass) Degree Examination, and three years in the case of the B.A., and the B.Sc., (Hons.) Degree Examinations. For those who wish to specialise in Science there is a B.Sc., Course in addition to the B.A., Science Course and for those specialising in Mathematics there are the M.A., and M.Sc., Courses in addition to the B.A., B.Sc., Courses in Mathematics. In addition to the degrees in Arts and Sciences, There is a Post Graduate Course in Teaching extending over one academical year. Provision has also been made in the University for training students in Civil, Electrical and Mechanic

Mechanical Engineering leading to the B.E., Degree Examination, and also for the training of students in Medicine and Surgery leading to M.B.B.S., Degree Examination and L.M.P. Diploma. The Medical College which is at present located at Bangalore is proposed to be transferred ~~to be transferred~~ to Mysore and buildings for the purpose are in the course of erection near the Krishnarajendra Hospital. It is expected that the ~~College~~ will be opened at Mysore from 1st July 1930.

The University Unions at Bangalore and Mysore afford opportunities to the students, the Members of the College Staff, and the Fellows and the Registered Graduates of the University to come into touch with one another and enjoy healthy social amenities.

The University has also instituted a system of University Extension Lectures and a Publication Bureau.

A short note on the Mysore University.

The University of Mysore established in the year 1916 ~~was the first University to be founded in the Native States of India~~. It is State supported except for the income derived from fees and endowments, ~~and Government~~ have general powers of ~~control~~. His Highness the Maharaja is the Chancellor and the highest controlling authority. The Senate has entire charge of the organisation of instruction and the Executive Government of the University is vested in the Council. The Vice Chancellor who is appointed by the Chancellor is ex-officio Chairman of the Senate and the Council and the principal Executive and Academic Officer of these two bodies.

The affairs of the University are administered by the University Council & the Senate under the general supervision of the Govt.

No.435

My dear Sir,

I understand that a small brochure has been prepared on places of interest in Mysore, in connection with the visit of His Excellency the Viceroy. As I am preparing a small illustrated pamphlet to serve as a guide book in connection with the visit of Their Excellencies to the Plant, I request that a copy of the brochure prepared by you may kindly be sent to me, as this will be of considerable help in the preparation of our pamphlet.

Yours sincerely,

SIR,

P I have the honour to state that as per Chief Secretary's D. O. No: 1724/P.P. 104-18-240, dated 4th November 1929, suggesting the insertion of certain views in the Guide Book proposed to be issued for H. E. the Viceroy's visit, I had to get a number of photographs and prints from Messrs. Barton, Son & Co., Ltd., for the purpose. I request that sanction may kindly be accorded for their purchase at a cost of Rs 61-12-0 as per bill submitted by the firm, the cost being met from the head "Contingencies" in the current year's Press Budget.

The favour of early sanction is solicited.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

B Puttaiya
